A Message From The Minister

Dear Friends,

It takes a certain kind of courage to remain committed to something which others have begun to be regarded as unfashionable, dull and irrelevant. Being a Christian in modern Britain, for example, means that you believe things which most of the people around you find, at best, ridiculous. A Christian, in such a situation, can either abandon the faith for an easier life, water down their faith, take out all the supernatural elements so that it just becomes a call to be nice to people, or you can stand firm in your faith, come what may. I'm sure you don't need me to tell you which approach the Bible advocates. One of the most admired qualities of our late Queen was her refusal to play to the gallery, maintaining a stance of duty and dignity until the very end, even when nobody else did.

In Nehemiah 10, the Israelites assemble in order to reaffirm their commitment to God, rather like we do when we say our covenant prayer every year. Except they go further than simply praying together. They make a binding agreement in writing, giving this affirmation legal status. They have experienced exile because of their rejection of God, and they are determined not to make that mistake again. They make a commitment to live God's way and to personal holiness. They make of themselves an offering to God, what Paul called a 'living sacrifice' (Romans 12.1). They would then direct their attention to the Temple, symbolising them the presence of God. That temple no longer exists. Since that time God has given us a new way to be holy – through the death and resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ. Those who put their faith in Him are then to come together to form a new temple, built not with bricks and mortar, but from 'living stones' (1 Peter 2.5) – you and me! Together, God's people form a spiritual house in which God lives by His Spirit. Nehemiah 10 is all about being called to commit ourselves to God, and for us, our churches are the place where we meet to live out this commitment. We are reminded of the truths of our faith, we sing and pray to God together, we encourage each other in our faith, and we then take the good news we have heard into our daily lives to share with others. That's what it means to commit ourselves to God. We can't do it alone. We need to meet together. We each need to make our own personal commitment to Jesus, but we need our brothers and sisters in Christ to fully live out that commitment. As the Israelites say at the end of this chapter, "we will not abandon God's house".

With every blessing

These talks will take place in the morning service from September until Advent. We are mainly using our own Wonford team but have a debut appearance from Rev Ash Leighton-Plom (St David's and St Michael's Mount Dinham) and our faithful and well-used friend Rev Paul Smith. We hope you enjoy and find encouragement in Jesus' use of parables to illustrate the comforts and challenges of our Christian faith.

Energy Efficiency in our Homes

As we all know the cost of our gas and electricity in our homes is increasing drastically. One way to mitigate this is to make sure our homes have as much insulation as possible. There are grants available for anyone who is either renting or own their own homes.

Cosy Devon is a DCC & District Council initiative to retrofit low income family homes. The total income of the family must be below £30,000. They offer help to insulate homes to reduce their fuel bills. There is a form on the following site that would need to be completed. Improving the energy efficiency of your home - Cosy Devon - household energy efficiency

Energy Company Obligation(ECO) offer cavity wall or loft insulation grants to low income families. One person in the household needs to be receiving a state benefit. i.e. disability or pension benefit. This is Government scheme to tackle fuel poverty. Under the ECO scheme the 'Big Six' utility companies are obliged to provide funding to households that need to improve the efficiency of their homes. This is in part to achieve the government's goal of being net carbon neutral by 2050 but as a main aim of tackling fuel poverty across the UK. Click here to download the form Insulation Grants - available grants \(government-grants.co.uk\)

Government Boiler Upgrade Scheme. Gas heating boilers should be replaced every 10 to 15 years. This is because new models which are more efficient are being produced. Here is a link to information on the Sustainable Energy site: Upgrading your boiler | Centre for Sustainable Energy \(cse.org.uk\) All new boilers should be 'A' rated.

The government is providing grants to encourage property owners to install low carbon heating systems such as heat pumps, through the Boiler Upgrade Scheme (BUS). These grants can help property owners overcome the upfront cost of low carbon heating technologies. You need an Energy Efficiency Certificate before applying.

The scheme is open to domestic and small non-domestic properties in England and Wales. It runs from 2022 to 2025.

What you'll get:

- £5,000 off the cost and installation of an air source heat pump (cheapest option)
- £5,000 off the cost and installation of a biomass boiler
- £6,000 off the cost and installation of a ground source heat pump

The more our houses are insulated the less CO<sub>2</sub> goes into the atmosphere and the less we have to pay for our fuel bills. Currently about 20% of our annual CO<sub>2</sub> is from our energy use. If you hear of any other schemes that are offering grants then please let a member of the green team know so we can make people aware. Please pass these links onto anyone who is struggling with their fuel bills as this could be one way of reducing them.

Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II

The President and Vice-President of the Methodist Conference have made the following statement in response to the announcement of the death of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II.

“It was with profound sadness that we learned of the death of Her Majesty the Queen today. We join the nation in grief and thank God for her long and distinguished reign. The loyalty to, and love expressed, for Queen Elizabeth across the world is a testament to the life that she led, one marked by dedicated service to others. She provided encouragement and reassurance to a world living through uncertain times.

“For people of all ages the Queen has provided constancy, a calm and wise influence at all levels of society. Our nation, the Commonwealth and the world have been greatly blessed by her life and work.

“We give thanks to God that her duty as monarch was grounded in a deep faith in Jesus Christ, which has been an inspiration to countless people throughout her reign. Her dedication, commitment and service to her people will never be forgotten and will sustain all those who mourn in the coming weeks. Our prayers are for her family who have lost a mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and aunt and we pray that all may be inspired by her service and guided by her example.

“The prayers of the Methodist people are also offered for His Majesty the King in his new role.”

The Revd Graham Thompson and Anthony Boateng, President and Vice-President of the Methodist Conference
